

Randal Avolio

President & CEO

Randal Avolio became President and CEO of SEE International in 2012, bringing with him a substantial record of business acumen and a tireless dedication to bringing health resources to those who need it the most.

Previously, Randal spent six years as COO at Bend Memorial Clinic (BMC), the largest multispecialty clinic in central Oregon. At BMC, he was responsible for a $70M budget, 400 employees and 100 providers across more than 30 medical specialties. Randal's background also spans 25 years in Administrative Director and Management positions at world class facilities, such as Cedars-Sinai, USC and UCLA's Orthopedic Hospital. His track record of success demonstrates an ability to lead departments and organizations to achieve high levels of success through a collaborative approach, creating effective, lasting coalitions and partnerships.

Returning to Santa Barbara, where he has maintained well-established family ties, has afforded Randal the welcomed pleasure of becoming more immersed in the greater community. "The Santa Barbara area is unique in that it offers a high level of sophistication and access to a cultural wealth while maintaining a small-town feel," he reflects. "I feel fortunate to be able to work with this important organization and utilize my organizational and networking skills to maximize the effectiveness of SEE International in delivering their critical services to those most in need." Randal's extensive healthcare background has already provided SEE the opportunity to explore new avenues of programmatic growth and to retain SEE's strong commitment to being an efficient delivery model.

"I have a tremendous respect for the unique and highly leveraged organization that SEE is," he reflects. "It exists as one of the largest virtual group practices in the world, and allows us to have access to a vitally needed surgical skill set, with a group that has an inherent desire to do global humanitarian work. This is combined with the extraordinary generosity of corporations in the ophthalmic and other industries who give so freely of their donated supplies and services. It is this unique synergy that allows SEE to operate in an extremely effective and efficient manner.
